

Which questions would the bat scientists ask?

What would they want to know about what humans do?

