

What do we want to know?

The researchers are very curious about human and animal minds. They think about what they want to find out.

They ask lots of questions.

What questions do you think the St. Andrews researchers should ask about animal minds?

Write down three questions they might ask about animal minds.

1.

2.

3.

